MARION BLUMENTHAL LAZAN

Tuesday, January 29, 2013 - 7:00 pm
Boise State University Special Events Center

Marion Blumenthal Lazan, who as a child survived more than six years in Nazi deportation and concentration camps, will deliver The Andrus Center for Public Policy's first Human Rights Lecture on January 29, 2013 at the Boise State University Special Events Center. Lazan's talk will begin at 7:00 pm and is free and open to the public.

An author and the subject of a PBS documentary, "Marion's Triumph," will deliver a talk entitled, "Four Perfect Pebbles--A Holocaust Story--A Message of Perseverance, Determination, Faith and Hope." Mrs. Lazan will sign copies of her book Four Pebbles: A Holocaust Story following her talk.
